Truman Claims American Atom-Weapons Improved

WASHINGTON, July 24.—(AP)—President Truman reaffirmed today that the United States will lift secrecy surrounding atomic energy when Russia and other countries join in a "workable" international system of control.

Until they do, however, Truman said he has directed that "every effort be made toward maintaining the leading position of the United States" in the atomic field.

He said the recent tests of atomic weapons by Russia have shown the United States' position in the field of atomic weapons has been substantially improved.

Truman's remarks were contained in a statement issued by the White House in connection with an atomic energy commission report to Congress.

General Motors recently granted the United Automobile Workers (CIO) a 11.5 per cent wage increase geared toward the cost of living in the United States. It is to be additional to the 10 per cent in September. This was the first general price increase by General Motors since August, 1947.

DETROIT, July 24.—(AP)—General Motors Corporation today announced a price increase of 10 per cent for all passenger cars. The increases will become effective Monday.

U.S. Living Costs Hit New High

WASHINGTON, July 24.—(CPI)—Last week, the cost of living was heading for the stratosphere, and it will be a master of political fortune if either the brakes are applied by Republicans.

President Truman, in his speech to the recent democratic convention,

Steel Pipe Shortage Cuts Gas Installations in Homes

Thousand Houses Must Go Without

An estimated 1,000 Edmonton households who planned to install natural gas heating systems in their home this fall will have to wait until next year to do so, Northwest Utilities Ltd. announced today.

Company officials announced their proposed program of 4,000 installations for the year would be slashed by a shortage of steel pipe.

"It is possible we will not receive enough steel pipe to do so," said Utilities officials.

The company, said R. Doey McPherson, general manager, is making every effort to obtain pipe supplies from prospective customers in any state.

ALTERNATIVES URGED

"Under the circumstances," the announcement continues, "we cannot guarantee to complete installations during the current year. Those who can do so should immediately arrange to use alternative methods."

Shortages of pipe are attributed by company officials to basic shortages in the industry.

Pipe suppliers have not been able to meet their commitments to supply steel pipe for the distribution system.

One Canadian rolling mill, they say, has been affected by the shortage, and it has operated only one week since April 28.

DELIVERY TOO LATE

Today delivery of steel will be made to mills during the next week and at the end of August, but the steel, often packed out, cannot be fabricated into pipe until the end of September.

U.S. Guarding Atom Secrets

The report indicated that the recent Pacific tests were aimed to develop an explosive force out of atomic bombs.

PEACEFUL USES

As peace uses of atomic energy, the commission had this to say: "Radio-isotopes, by-products of the atomic bomb, 'comprise the first major use of the atomic energy of atomic energy to peaceful welfare.'

These isotopes, used to trace disease, are causing the bodies of humans and animals and also to treat some diseases directly, "are an important part of the understanding of the dynamic processes of life," the report declared.

"All told, more than 1,000 different isotopic projects are being conducted in the U.S. in one way or another, with every important aspect of the physical sciences involved."

These atomic by-products were being used for everything from measuring the friction on piston rings to treating goitre.

A Poor Service for Tourists

The city of Edmonton, the gasoline dealers and the provincial government should get together in some sort of a strenuous effort to work out a means whereby gasoline and motor car service will be available to both residents and tourists in Edmonton all hours of every day and every night.

Anything less than a service of this kind will operate against the profitable influx of visitors.

The present regulation is that gasoline stations shall close at 6:30 every day and remain closed all day Sunday. It is contrary to the rule to service cars after 12:30 on Saturdays.

Certain exceptions have been made to these rules permitting four stations to remain open and sell gasoline after hours. But tourists have no way of knowing where these stations are located.

Moreover, Edmonton residents themselves, who in their business, are called upon to use their cars at irregular and unexpected hours suffer considerable embarrassment and inconvenience through the limited system.

No New Problem Provinces

There appears to be a likelihood that no matter how close the margin of favorable votes in the Newfoundland referendum on union with Canada may be, Canada will issue an invitation for Newfoundland to become the tenth province.

It will seem to many Canadians that such a development should be undertaken with extreme caution.

No matter what the final vote may turn out to be, it is obvious that close to half of the people of Newfoundland are not only opposed to union, but opposed with considerable vehemence.

Indeed, there has been no small amount of bitterness in the views of those favoring responsible government.

Now, it is true that in any democracy the will of the majority should prevail. And to decline union when a bare majority of Newfoundlanders have favored it might impose a hardship on that bare majority.

But take into consideration an area that is torn apart with factional disagreements could impose an equally serious hardship upon all Canada.

Everyone is aware of those political embarrassments that have been precipitated by two or three very small minorities in Quebec. In fact, the activities of these minorities have colored the entire political history of Canada.

How much greater, then, could be the consequences of adopting a new problem province where nearly half the people are divided in their views of the future.

Indeed, this is a new problem province where nearly half the people are vigorously opposed to becoming Canadians.

Under a close vote of this kind the consummation of union should at least await a survey of the views of the other Canadian provinces.

The Nature of Man's Temptation

There is a facetious saying which goes something like this: "I can resist anything but temptation."

And human experience bears out the truth of it.

A man is thoroughly honest with himself and will admit that whenever he is assailed by temptation there is an equally powerful voice in his heart cautioning him against it. The greater the temptation, the greater is the revulsion that pulls him back.

What it comes down to is this: that sinning is a matter of free choice. No man can hide his guilt behind the specious excuse that the power of evil was too strong for him.

As St. Paul says, every man is given the strength to resist evil if he wants to resist it.

Every man must take full responsibility for his sins.

There can be no doubt about the plain meaning of that statement and about the authority of it.

And human experience bears out the truth of it.

A man is thoroughly honest with himself and will admit that whenever he is assailed by temptation there is an equally powerful voice in his heart cautioning him against it. The greater the temptation, the greater is the revulsion that pulls him back.

What it comes down to is this: that sinning is a matter of free choice. No man can hide his guilt behind the specious excuse that the power of evil was too strong for him.

As St. Paul says, every man is given the strength to resist evil if he wants to resist it.

Every man must take full responsibility for his sins.

ODDS AND ENDS

How to Make Yourself Popular While Travelling on the Bus

While quaffing a beaker of ginger ale with a certain gracious lady of my acquaintance the other day the matter of riding buses popped up into the conversation.

Now this lady is a person of notable amiability, great charm and almost celestial patience. So when I delved into her head she headedly upon the subject of the manners of motorists who permit their small progeny to sprawl all over the bus seats in street cars and buses while travelling in other people's cars. I knew she must have exercised some care for complaints.

It occurred to me then, that as a contribution to the common weal I ought to throw together some sort of a little essay on how to win the heart and influence people while travelling in public conveyances.

In other words, how to be popular while bussing in a bus.

Keep It In Your Boot

Another vital point to be remembered is that when you sit in a bus or street car, you are a vulgar and plebian to have your feet bunched up in your boot.

If these directions carefully followed it will soon become apparent to everybody that the English do not classify bussing with pride.

For no child, mind you, should even dream of boarding a bus without full equipment. That is to say, each child should be supplied with (a) a popcicle, (b) a peanut butter sandwich or (c) an ice cream cone.

Personally I lean towards the cone school of thought myself because it is a good idea to keep your hands free for a better grip on the bus and seat. Loll around the whole bus because it is so clumsy, and you will have far more room to move about.

But I will admit that a popcicle in the hands of an expert can be a most delightful treat.

But if you have to stand near the entrance door, will you not be relieved if you treat the whole thing like a game and pretend, that you are keeping your opponents out of the bus?

Let this be a life of fun and games.

Matte Off Delicacy

If upon entering the bus or street car, you see some studious looking bird, imbibed in the wisdom that pertains to a better mystery, or some one walk right in and splash yourself about, it is a sure sign that you are keeping your opponents out of the bus.

Remember that your fatuousness are much more engrossing to the mind than intelligence.

If you are a female, you must hand your bus ticket to the busman and then open your purse and extract therefrom a wallet, a purse, and a few coins.

Your little tale-tale will be infinitely more absorbing if you take off your coat, or a bus ticket, or a few coins.

Another who prances on with a ticket in his or her pocket is plainly of low origin and will be a vulgar and plebian to have your feet bunched up in your boot.

If you are a female, you must hand your bus ticket to the busman and then open your purse and extract therefrom a wallet, a purse, and a few coins.

Let this be a life of fun and games.

And this observation brings me to the truly delicate portion of this discourse a point to which I am driven with some reluctance because the recent elevation of the mercury has given the matter a palpable emphasis.

Now far from regarding this as a social error, which is a bit of bourgeoisie snark, we speak up-below, in defense of our busman, who has just as much right to his own individualism as he has to his own individual appearance.

No one questions my inability to understand the busman's mind, my shirt as I please, I can even sport a yellow necktie if I want to.

Why, then, should an effete custom insist that everybody must have a shirt and tie?

Cleanliness, after all, is a mere social custom, and what the busman is most action and an understanding of the problems and aspirations of the young generation.

Canada is a moral model better than she can afford to stand like.

If rents are increased, we will have to pay or get out. If we get out where we can't afford to cover to cost? If we pay up, it means that the busman's standard of life will have to be sacrificed and our belts already drawn almost to the breaking point.

Hastened White Collar.

Pay Best

Editor, Bulletin.—Courtesy costs nothing but an effort, and it pays off all proportion to the time and trouble involved.

Mr. Salter, in his letter to you, says that it is only by strict economy that I make ends meet. I am not so poor that I can't afford to pay for courtesy.

Why not act as if we knew that we were going to be welcomed? We must admit we need the tourists who come here from the United States.

Workers' Hardships

Editor, Bulletin.—Recently I received a letter from a friend who was not very pleased with the treatment of workers in the Government.

We all know that the Government could not be expected to pay for the services of a good and honest worker.

Mr. Salter is right.

It is true that the Government has anything deducted from it for taxes.

So far as the Government could find a way to do it, it has been to press white collar workers of the seemingly unfair imposition.

Mr. Salter is right again. Two years ago, but today it is only by strict economy that I make ends meet. I am not so poor that I can't afford to pay for courtesy.

It applies to every citizen. We must admit we need the tourists who come here from the United States.

TODAY'S MESSAGE

The War on Sin

There is a tendency in many quarters to shy way from the word "sin." Even preachers, who have said something against maintaining the word because their congregations "prefer more pleasant topics." This is an ostrich-like attitude. We may hate to hear sin discussed, but we cannot close our minds to the fact that sin is responsible for most of the world's misery.

Some who dislike being reminded of sin are good people who themselves lead blameless lives. But even such admirable souls may need to be told that besides the obligation of avoiding sin personally, they have a duty to help others combat it. That cannot be done except by bringing the reality of sin instead of trying to sidestep it.

We must all wage war on sin in one way or another. The minister or priest should not be expected to fight a lone battle. Parents especially must teach their children to stand up to sin and to expose its tendencies. Teachers should encourage their classes to aim at high moral standards. Even employers should feel an obligation to fight sin, if only by demonstrating sound ethical principles in the conduct of their businesses.

No man should be solicitous only about his own personal spiritual welfare. The weak and the erring are entitled to his sympathy and interest. We can all do much for our neighbors—by example, by persuasion, by exhortation. Many an unfortunate has strayed into sin because no one who showed an interest in him or was willing to make a little sacrifice of time and effort on his behalf.

If every community had its proper share of lay fighters against sin, many of the strongholds of Satan would soon be demolished, and much, if not all, of the injustice and unnecessary suffering in the world would disappear.

COME TO CHURCH THIS SUNDAY

Lutheran Minister Sets Record

ST. PAUL, MINN.—When Rev. Charles L. Grant, Lutheran pastor here, isn't preying on his pastoring here, he is doing one of these things.

Conducting a baptism, performing a marriage ceremony or reading a funeral service.

In all of these baptisms, he has baptized what is believed to be a national record.

Since he donned his first clerical garb, Rev. Grant has ministered at Chicago Lutheran Theological Seminary in 1914, the 60-year-old pastor of Park City, Minn., has conducted 1,578 baptisms, 1,000 marriages and 650 funerals.

Many of the children he baptized still stand before the altar at Faith church or in Mr. Grant's home to be married.

But none of these ceremonies was unusual, perhaps, as the wedding of a bride who feared her ailing heart wouldn't stand up under the strain of a crowded church ceremony.

So she chose to be wed in an airplane and thereby most produced her first flight for the official minister, Mr. Grant.

Those were the days when a minister was expected to grasp a minister's neck and hold it to shout into each participant's ear to make sure he heard about the die of the motor.

Another of the Grant-organized marriages was the first plane wedding in St. Paul.

The ceremony was held in the sky airplane and attended 1,000 guests, each of whom paid 75 cents admission.

Principals were the late Nathan Smith, St. Paul police officer and Blanche Finsen.

Miss Finsen was attended by 20 bridesmaids.

Mr. Grant has married 4,607 couples, the last five of whom took their vows July 30.

Poor Civic Spirit Shown By Singers

100 Voices Needed,
19 Answer Summons

By Dick Sherbanuk

Like so many civic efforts in this town, Friday night's organizational meeting of the chorus needed to take part in the Recreation Commission-sponsored open-air concert, was a disappointment.

About 100 voices are needed for the chorus.

Exactly 19 persons showed up.

In case you haven't heard about the open-air concert, leave us explain:

John Farina, superintendent of the City Recreation Commission, and other commission officials, thought that the 100 voices that Montanians might be interested in a light summer concert.

POOR SHOW

(You must admit that for a city this size, we have little musical activity in the summer.)

The Commission obtained the services of Mr. George H. H. Hopper to take charge of the event. Lee is summer-holding in the city for the past 10 years, has been studying at the Toronto Royal Conservatory of Music, specializing in orchestra conducting.

Previously he has conducted concerts in Edmonton (last summer), Banff, and the Canadian Rockies (the Stars' for instance), led an RCAF band for two years in wartime, and has conducted the Canadian Army Band and has had conducting experience with that group.

Lee and the Recreation Commission also decided on a concert for August 1, to be held at Clarke Stadium. (That date has been postponed for a rainy day, but the concert after last night's chorus' turnout.)

ORCHESTRA LOANED

The local branch of the Musical and Union Councils (its free school and 40-odd 50-piece bands) will be formed from its membership.

In addition to solos some of whom have been heard in the past, was decided to have a massed choir on the open-air concert program.

The choir, under the leadership of Mr. Farina, who was obtained as guest conductor of the chorus.

Mr. Farina is spending two weeks in Edmonton on business, has been conducting chorus for 10 years.

A his own baton of some note in his own right, Mr. Monk has led choirs in Ottawa, Toronto and most recently the New Westminster Queen's Avenue United Church choir.

GRAND OPERA DISCS

Thrill Music Lovers

By Dick Sherbanuk

Record-collectors, particularly the casual and the strictly budgeted, shouldn't miss RCA Victor's recent album "A Treasury of Grand Operas."

The best value-for-money buy I've seen in a long time is this collection of four coupled with a 12-inch disc.

Another RCA Victor album, "A Treasury of Grand Operas," includes superb recordings by topnotch artists of some of the most popular selections in grand opera.

Wagner's "Lohengrin," which is one of the most brilliant, fiery, beautiful pieces of music ever written, has a wondrous worshiper who sees a vision of the heavens bearing the Holy Grail, the sacred vessel. The last scene of the opera becomes more and more intense, then gradually disappears.

BEST EVER

Next week's music told a story so completely, and the NBC Symphony orchestra, under Arturo Toscanini's direction, has interpreted this Wagnerian work to perfection. The last scene of the heavenly vision which the listener himself can almost see.

Barbara Leonard Warren sings in "A Treasury of Grand Operas" (I) the prologue Si Pu' Ossido di Memorie (I) May a Song of Tenor James Melton.

From Verdi's Adriana Lecouvreur (I) the prologue Si Pu' Ossido di Memorie (I) May a Song of Tenor James Melton.

From Verdi's Adriana Lecouvreur, Act I, soprano Zinka Milanov sings Hilario (Return). Victoria de los Angeles sings Il Trovatore (Return) of victors our soldiers Depose Les Armes (Iay aside) from Verdi's Il Trovatore (Iay aside) from Verdi's La Forza del Destino.

Album is 12-inch discs, has some of the libretto in English.

I spent some interesting and amusing hours during the past week comparing albums of jazz for the piano, and the present and, as far as "Frascati" jazz is concerned, the future.

DIXIELAND JAZZ

On Columbia is Kit Ory and his Dixieland Band. Kid Ory, the composer of Muktar Scramble and Saver Blues, is one of jazz's old timers, and has the distinction of being the first to record the battle of Jericho; Bill Bailey, the "King of the Blues," and his Dixie Drunks, the half-shade, role he plays so well.

Miss Patrick seems a little off her bat at first, but warms to the piano and winds it up very convincingly.

ENTERTAINING

I enjoyed the singing of Wallace Berry in his big, clear, ringing voice. He is a real comedian, and you are justified in buying his records for some reason or other, will enjoy the picture.

Scramble is the plot, to prove comedy for Beery and a interest for the audience, are Tom Dixie and Dixie Drunks.

NW Brewing Co. Remodels Plant

More Than $500,000 Spent
To Make It Completely Modern

By Tommy Graham

Today marks a new peak in the history of the North West Brewing Co. Ltd.

The pioneer South Edmonton brewing establishment has taken on a "new look."

Inside and out, the plant has been remodeled throughout, and the new equipment is the best of the moment and up-to-date.

Everything about the old place has been torn up.

NEW EQUIPMENT

It has been completely re-decorated and remodeled in most modern lines, at the cost of more than $500,000.

New and latest designed equipment has been installed throughout.

A complete refrigeration, storage and bottling plant is now under construction and completed will be the most modern bottling of its kind in western Canada.

This new addition will also increase the production room, recreation centre and lunch room for the employees of the plant.

Once the new premises were closed with the end of prohibition in September 1946.

When prohibition was repealed, in May 1946, a group of Edmonton business men bought over the plant and renamed it the North West Brewing Company Limited.

FACE LIFT

It has operated under this name ever since, although there have been several changes in the management.

Persons who recall the old plant, which has long been a landmark on the South Edmonton hillside, would be hard put to recognize the premises, except perhaps the exterior.

The exterior, however, is decidedly different.

A new decorative design has been put on the exterior of the red and grey building, which has considerably brightened up the premises and enhanced the attractiveness of the new improved equipment.

"THE BEST"

Every nook and cranny of the plant has been gone over and remodeled.

Outstanding feature of the improvements to the old plant is the installation of the latest designed equipment. The new plant has destroyed equipment, furnishings and records valued at thousands of dollars.

They are especially proud of the

British House Bows to Lords On Hanging

LONDON, July 24.—(CP)—Home Secretary Ernest Bevin announced today the government's decision to drop the "compromise" clause from the criminal justice bill which would have allowed hanging for certain types of murder.

The commons then late tonight agreed to the deletion by a vote of 235 to 8.

TWICE REJECTED

The House of Lords twice rejected the bill and the government have bowed. First the peers turned thumbs down on the proposal that the death penalty should be suspended for certain types of murder. Then the "compromise" proposal that murder cases be divided into two types of severity, one carrying the death penalty and the other life imprisonment, was rejected.

But the issue will be raised again at a future session, the home secretary indicated.

Herbert Morrison, deputy prime minister, said: "I do not see no hope of the Lords accepting the clause or its equivalent for at least a year. But the whole issue boiled down to the advisability of dropping the clause and at least leaving the remainder of this great bill intact."

WANT TIME

Dealing with the suggestion that the government might bring in a bill suspending the clause or the original provision—to which the commons agreed—that hanging be suspended for five years, Morrison said:

"I want to be perfectly frank and honest with you all. The government must have more time to consider the issue."

"I am adverse to committing myself to a course of action before we know where we are dealing. We know where we are dealing. We must be able to weigh the arguments, proceed and take into account the course of debate as we go along."

Students to Live Five Days on Tablets Only

By Joan Carroll

LONDON, July 24.—(Reuters)—In a castle "some" where near London 100 male medical students at the end of this month will live for five days and five nights on tablets only which may ultimately alleviate famines.

Students from 10 universities, 20 and 30, will be participating in a nutritional research test under supervision of a medical team headed by Britain's top doctors, surgeons and pathologists who will be present.

Dr. Helmuth Heitz, London research chemist who has been experimenting with his team since 1961, said this will constitute a new development in nutritional research because of the tablets' convenience and ease to transport.

"We are sure they will become in due course an important element in the effort made to combat disease and starvation and where they are brought about by poverty," said Dr. Heitz yesterday.

The London tablets, weighing one-third of an ounce, contain vitamins, minerals, carbohydrates, proteins and thiamine, a B-complex chemical.

They may be used as a ration during shipwreck or siege.

Dr. Heitz intends to give six tablets a day to each student for 10 days.

"They will be allowed no normal food or drink."

"The students will get a little bit at their meals," Dr. Heitz said. "The tablets are lemon, banana, pineapple and chop suey flavor."

The tablets are 100% nutrition, he said, and contain 20 feet.

Edmontonians Return To Find Growing City

Call of distant places may have taken you away from your old home town—but it's hard to be back isn't it?

In spite of the lure of bigger cities, brighter lights, intrigue of foreign lands, home is always where you made your first real friends, where you walk down the street and you meet a dozen people you've known for years.

Edmonton's children are covering the world—but they all come back whenever they have the opportunity.

It's a city that's growing, developing and a name that will some day be known in every corner of the world.

SERENE BACKGROUND OF CHURCH STEEPLES

DISTANT FIELDS look greener but you'll find as much beauty right at your front doorstep and Olive Thoms sees in the serene beauty of church spires against the sky back in her home town Edmonton. Miss Thoms has been in Washington, D.C. for the past three months, working with UNIBRA. Home for a holiday and a rest from the hectic pace of the United States capital city, she finds tremendous progress right here.

TRAVEL IS BROADENING BUT HOME IS BEST

BASKING IN SUNSHINE of Bermuda may be wonderful—but it's good to be home and Elenora Dixon, left, will be the first to say so. Mary Mayor, right, is visiting Miss Dixon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Charles Dixon with her friend. Both girls are training as nurses in Bermuda. After a year spent in the beautiful soothng air of Bermuda—close to the murmering sea—they're glad to have a breathing spell in a completely inland and "down-to-earth" town like Edmonton.

LEISURELY DAYS FOR HOLIDAYERS FROM SINGAPORE

BLISTERING HEAT of the tropics makes our past week of intense sunshine seem only moderately warm in comparison. Mrs. Robert White and her daughter Lucinda are visiting in Edmonton with Mr. White. They are guests of Mr. White's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Eldin Hayward. The Whites make their home in Singapore and chose to come "home" in the good ol' summertime when Edmonton gardens are blooming and Edmonton people are holiday-minded.

WE BRING OUR BEAUTIES BACK HOME

BRILLIANT SMILE of Doris Milne of Winnipeg, formerly of Edmonton, proves she is happy to be back "to the scenes of her childhood," which aren't so very remote at that.

She's having a wonderful time renewing old acquaintances, swimming, playing tennis and generally facing away the holiday season. While here she is visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Lawrence and their daughter Joyce.

Northland Progressing Says Mrs. J. P. Harvey

Civilization Arrives in Far North;
Modern Household Appliances Ample

By Frances Geddes

Fair north still may be the land of the midnight sun but other things have changed.

Civilization has arrived, there in a big way according to Mrs. J. P. Harvey who has returned from ten years spent in the north country.

Mrs. Harvey and her husband, Dr. Harvey and their four children, ranging in age from three to eight years, have at Akiskis, their three-year-old home at Fort Norman before that.

They recently settled at a Canadian Government hospital unit with Dr. Harvey confers with Department of National Health and Welfare officials.

At Akiskis there was electricity and a town lighting system, but Mrs. Harvey had a wood stove and electric coffee mill and toaster. The old story of getting back to civilization is still a story in the north.

There is little difference because of freezing temperatures, says Mrs. Harvey, although it is being experienced in the south. The temperatures are so low that windows are completely frosted in spite of storm sash. The children have to stay in the toy houses with the toy houses have been set up for the kids.

Among the 100 children going to school in Akiskis, Mickey, age eight, was the only white boy. He is not the greatest athlete, but at school Inspectors praise the education given in spite of schools being built in the open air.

Many pleasant memories and warm experiences are recorded in the log cabin home where all were friendly and all ready to help one another.

Mrs. Harvey explained that purses are unnecessary because money isn't used much. Everything is charged. When one of her sons is charged, the others are charged.

Jack and Pickerel Aplenty in Alberta

Nature is Kind to Anglers Here
—Lakes, Streams Abound Nearby

Angling, as Sir Isaac Walton dignified the "art" or just plain fishing, according to Huckleberry Finn, grows more popular each year.

Nature has been most kind to the angler in Alberta. Alberta's lakes and streams abound with a wonderful variety of fish.

WELL-STOCKED.

Nearly all of the popular beach resorts are on lakes well stocked with fish, usually jack or pickerel.

The rivers and streams have the game fish golden in abundance, and the trout, perch, white sucker, mountain freshets in the Foothills to the west are a great lure to the tourist.

Highly popular fishing spots within a few hours drive of Edmonton include:

St. Paul Lake. 100 miles northwest of the city just west of the town of Athabasca. Pike, pickerel and perch are abundant. Arctic grayling can also be hooked in Baptiste Lake.

Lac Ste. Anne. 40 miles west and slightly north of Edmonton. Has pike, pickerel and jackfish.

Lac La Nonne. about 60 miles northeast of Edmonton. Pike, pickerel and perch.

Lake Nakasine. five miles east of Lac La Nonne, near Alocamide. Pike, pickerel and perch.

Pike Lake. 10 miles southeast of Edmonton, 28 miles west of Wetaskiwin. Pike, pickerel and perch.

Lake Wabamun. about 40 miles west of Edmonton. Pike, pickerel and perch.

Chip Lake. 65 miles west of Edmonton. Pike and pickerel.

East of Edmonton there are pike and pickerel in many small named lakes.

Sylvan Lake. about 80 miles south of Edmonton, due west of Lacombe. Pike, pickerel and perch.

To the stream fisherman there is also the widest possible choice. Even the small streams around Sylvan Lake have a few goldies.

Trout fishermen are in their glory in the following rivers and streams:

McLeod River and its many small tributaries, about 90 miles west of Edmonton on the Jasper Highway.

IT CAN BE DANGEROUS

Beware of Too Much Sun

Sun tan is becoming and sunburn is painful and sunstroke is dangerous.

Skin, age, condition and complexion are factors that should be carefully studied by sun-seekers.

The sunburner with light hair burns more readily than brunettes.

Doctors advise that everyone, at the beach for the first time, take his sun in small doses at first.

After a period of a month, increasing sun is a good general rule.

The exposure times can be lengthened gradually.

All drug stores sell excellent sunburn preventatives.

To avoid sunstroke, the head should be protected as well as the body.

The old fashioned broad-brimmed straw hat is about the best head protection. Direct sun rays should be avoided.

If a person suffers sunstroke he should be taken to a cool place as soon as possible. Cold water may be applied to his head and body.

The body should be sponge bathed.

The body may also be wrapped in wetted sheets. Cooling liquids should be given the victim.

In severe cases a high fever sets in and the victim should be delirious. A doctor should be called at once in every case of sunstroke.

Sunstroke. or exhaustion heat stroke, is more common.

This can be avoided to some extent by taking salt and sugar tablets. These are sold in many drug stores for protection against heat stroke.

Here's How to Enjoy Swimming and be Safe

Swimming is one of the great joys of a summer vacation. But swimming can be dangerous.

Holiday folk who ordinarily swim in the ocean or in lakes can make their summer vacations both enjoyable and safe by observing a few simple rules of water safety.

Two Loggers Killed in B.C.

HAMILTON LAKE, B.C., July 24.—(CP)—Two timber fellers were killed instantly yesterday when crushed by a huge sage which fell on them.

They were Deller Root, 34, of New Westminster, and Eric Carlson, 37, of Vancouver.

DIG WELL IN PARK

THORO, N.B., July 24.—(CP)—A packer who was to be buried in a shallow grave in the grounds of the Thoro Athletic Grounds. The well—expected to contain water—was dry. At unsupervised swimming places try and have rule of thumb. A long rope bearing a line and a stout plank may be very useful. Watch the other good swimmer watching the others in the water.

When swimming make sure there is seven feet under a diving board three feet from the shore and fall into the water during a diving board 10 feet above and 12 feet off the bottom.

BE CAREFUL

If you become tired while swimming try and remember that you are a good swimmer. If you know how to tread water and float on your back you can regain your strength and wind.

WE CALL IT

if a swimmer is overexposed from exercise or sunbathing, sudden lowering of the body temperature through contact with the colder environment causing cramps or dizziness.

When exercising or swimming for the first time find out the depth and kind of bottom from a reliable source. It is a great mistake to dive into water with which one is unfamiliar. If an unexpected current is encountered, go in first.

(7) It is generally unsafe to swim in large bodies of water. If you have to swim alone keep parallel to the shore in about five feet of water.

Unemployment Begins at 45, Says Labor Minister

OTTAWA, July 24. — (CP) — Despite organized efforts to help him, a man older than 45 is having more and more trouble finding work.

The authority for state-ment, Arthur MacNamara, deputy minister of labor, who has statistics to back it up.

The latest figures available, for April, show that 30.1 per cent of all applicants for jobs through the National Employment Service were 45 or older. They totalled nearly 30,000. The year before they totalled 48,300 or 29.2 per cent.

Mr. MacNamara said the service, the department and the veterans department have been co-operating in a campaign on behalf of those men.

But said one expert on the subject, "There is no greater injustice than discriminating against the older man on the score of age."

Rising food prices affect other lines, taking away money which might be spent on them. But that is not the whole story.

Exceptions are radios and musical instruments, which have been on the market since 1937.

But they are partly due to the special excise tax imposed last November and some waiting to see whether the tax would be continued.

Others are clothing, which has been dropping for more than a year.

CLOTHING JUMPS

Every group of stores except jewelry, radio and electrical, had increases in May. Women's clothing sales were up one per cent. Easter months showed some picture.

To a lesser degree, chains in general also showed greater increases, which might be spent on them. But that is not the whole story.

Exceptions are radios and musical instruments, which have been on the market since 1937.

But they are partly due to the special excise tax imposed last November and some waiting to see whether the tax would be continued.

Others are clothing, which has been dropping for more than a year.

These dollar increases are partly due to the fact that people are not buying as many luxuries, and do not always mean an increase in volume of sales or that people are getting more for their money.

Demand for Cars

In all, the general picture seems to be one of spending with an increasing proportion of money going to food and necessities. The day seems to be money for high-priced goods, which are really wanted, as contrasted with the general tendency to compare prices and do selective buying in general lines.

The rate of savings is being maintained, but the rate of increase of current income is being spent in former years, and undoubtedly many individuals have dipped into their savings.

Bedroom Setting Important to All

Cheery Surroundings Benefit Even to Kids

By Bert Nighthawks

Assuming that out of any 24-hour day the average individual spends from six to eight hours in sleep, it is readily seen how important should be the accommodation for Wee Willie Winkie.

A bedroom should be more than a place in which to remove one's outer garments, and stretch out for a quiet snooze.

The number of bedrooms in your home will naturally depend on the number of people you have to accommodate. But the actual rooms can be designed just for sleeping.

Another point to bear in mind is that the type of room you use, and our bedroom furniture, could well determine the size and shape of the room.

Be sure you don't forget the need of storage space you will need for clothes and linens.

Consider, too, whether or not you would like separate dressing closets or whether one large one will suffice.

BED-SITTING

Getting to the idea of a combined sitting and sleeping room—this feature is becoming increasingly popular, although restricted to the larger type of home.

One of the neatest arrangements of this sort we have seen is found in a large home in the Highlands district.

CONSTRUCTION

The construction of this particular home cost us $1,000 less but other homes could well be designed along similar lines. The bedroom area consisted of a large room, about 12 by 16 feet.

This space was divided in the centre by an archway, which could be completely closed by sliding doors.

With the exception of furniture, decorations, the rest of the room became strictly sleeping quarters: twin beds and a dressing closet. A small closet on the floor, and one or two well-chosen pictures made up the furnishings.

Dark, heavy curtains followed the color harmony.

FURNISHINGS

The other half of the room, through use of the same light-colored scheme, took on the look of a general set-up, and yet it was furnished in such a way as to set itself apart.

There was a bay-boy chaise, a Winnipeg cabinet, a small radio, matching desk and chair, and a peaceful picture was hung on the wall; there was an air of privacy and quietness, and a atmosphere that suggested nothing was to distract the occupants once they had settled in.

If sleep refused to be counted, there were ample facilities for reading, listening to the radio or quiet contemplation of insomnia.

Calgary Old Timer Dies At 84 Years

CALGARY, July 24.—(CP)—Owen Colton, 84 of Calgary, one of the original members of the Calgary Knights of Columbus, and an active worker in the southern Alberta Pioneers and Old Timers Association, died in hospital yesterday.

Native of Pakenham, Ont., he came to Calgary in 1898. Until his retirement in 1918 he worked as a building contractor.

This was decided at a meeting of the executive held Thursday at which President Alex McCallum presided.

Plans are also being made for construction of a community league park. Advice of the Federation of Canadian Municipalities will be sought in this connection.

All league members are asked to turn out next Sunday at 7:30 p.m. to a bee for cleaning community grounds.

Even Eskimos Anxious For Role in North Radio Shows

Even Eskimos are eager to participate in programs of the Canadian Army's far north radio chain.

Sergeant-Major R. A. McLeod of the Akashv signals station in charge of army radio men made a record-montion with three others in charge of down the north radio stations, said the CBC series, "Armed Forces Report." The radio taste in "native port," Tuesday, was intended to end reeling in the dancing rhythms and sentimental cowboy music.

Their eagerness helps, he explained, to fill part of the station's need for programs to fill its broadcasting schedule.

In Edmonton with Sergeant-Major McLeod are Sergeant G. J. E. Sick and Private Dawson, Dawson; Sergeant H. L. Greenhush, CFWH, Whitehorse, and Private Foster Rhude, CFWH, Fort Churchill. Staff Sergeant-Major McLeod, for example, said programs from his tiny station have been heard at Akashv and in southern Alberta and Montana.

The stations are maintained by local army men, called Signal Corps personnel double as technicians, announcers and operators.

The stations broadcast on an average of four to six hours a day using local talent, news broadcasts and music to fill out their schedules.

The stations, Dawson, Greenhush and Akashv, are nearly 1,000 recordings, which is also added to the broadcast library by the Dawson Choral Society, and boxing and wrestling broadcasts.

Wallace Raps Reporters Over 'Guru' Letters

PHILADELPHIA, July 24.—(AP)—Gen. Wallace and newspapermen spent an angry hour today discussing an Eastern mystic named "Guru."

At a news conference the third party presidential candidate held on the opening day of his campaign, Wallace charged that the authorship of the so-called "Guru" letters—"Guru" is an East Indian word meaning "teacher" and usually denotes a religious teacher.

For some months, Westbrook Pegler has been writing stories on whether Wallace wrote some mystic notes to "Guru." Pegler also has attempted to determine whether this has influenced Wallace's policies.

The columnist was present today. Some brought up the question of the "Guru letters" and Wallace replied, "I never wrote Westbrook Pegler."

Pegler, confronting Wallace directly on the letters for the first time, asked: "What do you know about them?"

Wallace said: "I will never engage in any discussion with Westbrook Pegler."

Some persons in the back of the room began to stamp and shout.

Finally, Wallace said he wouldn't answer the question because it wasn't important.

A man wearing a Wallace button shouted: "If you stooges don't like what you do, don't you get the hell out of here?"

The reporters did ask Wallace said he would answer the question—but at his own discretion.
